Goal #1 - Albert Montejano reported the Quality Assurance committee met twice since the October goal-setting meeting. The Leadership Team came to consensus on the approach and it is anticipated the plan will be ready for approval by February.

Goal #2 - Mike Smith reported the Education group met once with Educators. The focus of the group is to determine how the WIB and Educators can work together to influence politicians on local issues. It was recommended that the Education Whitepaper provided to the WIB as an outcome of the Education panel also be used by the group as a springboard.

Mr. Osorio reported the Program Planning and Development Committee met and have chosen the construction industry to focus on as an attempt to accomplish Goal #1. He noted there will be a Contractor Forum held on January 29 to further facilitate this. In addition, Mr. Osorio reported that the WIB also held panel discussion on this issue at last meeting. The recommendations were John Fowler, and Scott Malta, BOS Representative, Paul Fillebrown and possibly a representative from a couple of employers already using the facility. After discussion it was determined John Fowler and Paul Fillebrown should be contacted for input on the appropriate panel members. WIB Staff will follow up on this.

VI. Information Agenda

- a. Conference Committee – WIA Reauthorization – Andrea reported that we anticipate to continue to work closely with the CWA on this. We are continuing to wait for conference committee to be named. She noted that two big issues at this time between the Senate and the House will be 1) Silos of funding vs. block grant 2) Faith-based organizations participation and discrimination in hiring practices.

- VII. Director's Comments - Andrea Baker reported that she has been asked to be a member of Practitioners' Group that will be looking at Farmworker Services. She reported this group will consist of eight (8) people from all over the United States. It is anticipated the group will primarily conduct meetings through conference calls and meet at the National Workforce Association annual meeting. Mike Sullivan noted that migrant health care is a large issue and volunteered to provide information as needed for the group. Ms. Baker also noted the federal budget was signed last Friday, and it is anticipated we will know the allocation from the state by next month.

SUBJECT: Additional Information regarding the Central Valley Agri-Food Research Institute

PROPOSED MOTION(S): Information Only.

DISCUSSION: At the March 11, 2004 WIB Meeting, staff was directed to clarify the funds request and support for the project, and provide a more detailed description of the project.

A letter of support from UC Merced Chancellor Carol Tomlinson-Keasey dated December 5, 2003 was written to Carol Whiteside from the Great Valley Center. Also, communication from the Great Valley Center on February 5, 2004, confirms that letters of commitment to raise $32,000 (the request to the WIB was for $10,000 of that amount), were required by May 1, 2004, which coincides with the initiation of the grant. In order to receive the entire $32,000 from EDA a local cash contribution commitment of $10,000 will be needed at that time. The Great Valley Center proposes a project to develop a business plan to create a Central Valley Agri-Food Research Institute at UC Merced. The purpose of the institute is to expand the economic diversity of the Central Valley around its primary agricultural base, create high paying jobs, provide training opportunities for the local workforce, and enhance economic growth in a region that is underserved, has high unemployment, low paying jobs, and the fastest projected growth rate in the state.

The following details the planning for creating the Central Valley Agri-Food Research Institute.

Project Concept

The Great Valley Center proposes a project to develop a business plan to create a Central Valley Agri-Food Research Institute at UC Merced. The purpose of the institute is to expand the economic diversity of the Central Valley around its primary agricultural base, create high paying jobs, provide training opportunities for the local workforce, and enhance economic growth in a region that is underserved, has high unemployment, low paying jobs, and the fastest projected growth rate in the state.

A Unique Institute

The Institute will bring together agriculture, engineering, technology, and business to focus on the application of information science to the agri-food industry from seed production to product delivery including such areas as regulatory compliance, environmental impact monitoring, and quality assurance. It will identify, research, develop, apply, and transfer information-, analysis-, and communications-technologies to help agri-food and related businesses and organizations become more efficient, competitive, sustainable, and responsive to the changing global marketplace and regulatory environment. The Institute will be unique because it will research and develop information- and communications-based technologies for the agri-food sector that can help businesses reduce costs, make more efficient use of resources, and create higher value products.

The Institute will encourage the formation and growth of companies developing and marketing products and services utilizing informatics, a new field of research that brings together the activities of data collection and analysis for decision making. Agri-food and related industries will participate in collaborative research, educational programs, training, technology transfer, conferences, and publications pertaining to a broad range of crops as well as dairy and livestock. The Institute will work in collaboration with public and private research, development, and educational organizations to identify and address challenges in areas related to its mission.

Two Phase Process The Agri-Food Research Institute will be created in two phases:

- 1. Development of the business plan, coordinated by the Great Valley Center.
- 2. Implementation of the research and educational programs, conducted by UC Merced.

The Great Valley Center will seek competitive proposals to complete the scope of work. It will hire and supervise the consultant(s) who will prepare the business plan. Preparation of the business plan will be done collaboratively with UC Merced, industry, government, and additional interested parties to ensure that the plan has the support of interested stakeholders.

At the completion of the development of the business plan, the expectation is that UC Merced will take responsibility for the operation of the Institute with some on-going support from the Great Valley Center. The business plan will help provide information to UC Merced as it develops related plans including incubators and a potential adjacent research park.

Anticipated Benefits

The goal of the Institute is to generate new ideas and technologies that can be put to practical use to benefit industry, the economy, and the environment.

The Institute will conduct research that is expected to have ancillary benefits for the following significant regional issues:

- Developing regionally appropriate economic development strategies for agri-food businesses.
- Helping agri-food businesses use computing and communications technologies to become more competitive.
- Encouraging job creation and local workforce training in new and existing businesses serving the agri-food industry.
- Helping resolve agriculture-related natural resources issues including land use, water, and air quality.
- Fostering collaboration among the diverse sectors of the agri-food industry.
- Raising the reputation of California's Central Valley as a center for innovation.

The Institute will serve as a gathering point for agri-technologists to talk, to network, and to develop technologies that might be spun off to start or support local business. It will attract compatible investment, encourage a new cluster of related business, and create new jobs.

The Agri-Food Research Institute will help transform the Valley's agri-food industry and the regional economy. It will be an important catalyst connecting the research community with the private sector and developing a network to enhance innovative agri-technology.

It is appropriately placed in California's Central Valley, premier producer of agricultural and food products.

Proposed Time Line

This 12 month project will begin in January 2004 and be completed by January 2005.

SUBJECT: Continuation of Registered Nurse Program

PROPOSED MOTION(S): Continue the Registered Nurse Training Program with Merced College at a continued enrollment level of 24 WIA sponsored RN students per year for the period July 1, 2004 through June 30, 2005.

DISCUSSION: Since August 1, 1999, Merced County has had continuing contracts with Merced College to provide Registered Nurse (RN) training for WIA participants. The original class was 6 students. In March 2002, the WIB directed the number of WIA supported students be increased to 24. The present contract will terminate June 30, 2004. Of the 24 students now enrolled, 18 will still be enrolled at contract termination.

A new contract would result in a contract continuation through June 30, 2005. Six (6) new students would enroll each of the two semesters covered by the contract, with 6 graduating each semester, keeping those supported by the WIB at 24. Contract cost per participant will be $2,737 per student/semester with a total contract cost of $131,376. This is an increase in the contract, computed at 24 students attending per semester, of $21,504 per year, or an increase of 19.6% in contract cost. The rise in cost is attributed to increased costs for Health Insurance and Workers' Compensation, plus salary step increases.

The following Options are offered for cost comparison and consideration:

(Please see next page)

- Future costs to graduate all participants with no new enrollments = $215,168

Option 2: 18 RNs in program. Enroll 6 new 1st semester, none (0) in 2nd semester, none after that

- Total Cost of contract + supportive services = $114,954 + $26,237 = $141,191
- Costs represents 34.3% of Adult Training Budget

SUBJECT: Self-Sufficiency Wage

PROPOSED MOTION(S): Adopt a new method for establishing the Self-Sufficiency Wage to incorporate family size and primary living expenses.

DISCUSSION : At present the WB approved Self-Sufficiency Wage is $11.06 per hour and is based on a weighted national average at the 25th percentile of wages of adults (aged 25 years and older) who have a high school diploma or less and are in full time employment. The hourly rate is adjusted for Merced County cost of living and inflation. What the Self-Sufficiency Wage does not take into account is family size and the cost to live in Merced County such as housing, utilities, food, transportation, childcare, and health care.

A new formula based on a California Budget Project allows for family size and living expenses to be considered. The information used is tailored to Merced County and can reviewed periodically and updated as changes occur, or yearly at a minimum. The advantage of this newer calculation is that more individuals with families will be eligible for intensive or training services. For example, today's calculation sets the self-sufficiency wage at $11.06 per hour, regardless of family size. Using the new calculation, a single parent family member will have a self-sufficiency wage of $16.59, and the wage rate for a two parent family with one working member will be $15.00 per hour. In other words, a family member needing WIA services will be qualified if he or she is making less that the respective $16.59 or $15.00. Now those same individuals must be making less that $11.06 to qualify.

Staff reports that the vast majority of individuals seeking WIA assistance will benefit from the Self-sufficiency Basic Family Wage calculation.
